CURTAINS

Is another thing we do well in. White, Cream, Coffee, Madras, Raw Silk and Chenille, from 45 cents to $15 per pair; and guaranteed the best value in this section of country.
Several styles confined to ourselves. A large assortment of Sinyron Rugs and Mats, Plain Cocoa Mats, Cocoa Mats with fancy centre, and Cocoa Mats with mud scrapers attached.

MILLINERY

Is something in which we excel and we are proud of the efficiency of our Millinery department this season. MISS O'CONNOR will please anyone who can be pleased, and if you patronize her for your Millinery you may be sure of getting something stylish, handsome, tasty and becoming, in fact she will not let you have anything that isn't becoming. New hats every morning by express.

Dress Goods.—Several new makes of stylish, handsome goods, full lines of trimmings to match.

Silks and Satins, we are particularly strong in, and are in a position to show you a finer assortment at lower prices than you can find anywhere outside the large cities, but what is the use of particularizing, we haven't the time or space to go into the several departments and devote to them the attention they deserve, but we may say you can depend upon the value of every article we deal in, our goods are bought for cash, and therefore at the lowest possible prices; we sell lots of goods at the prices other houses pay for them and make a fair profit.

TO BARBADOS.

A glamour ever hangs around
The fair land of my birth,
Where'er I roam it ever seems,
The brightest spot on earth.
Even as the faithful Moslem hopes,
His holy shrine to see,
With like devotion, lovingly
My heart still fondly turns to thee.
I long have wandered far away,
I've crossed the ocean's foam;
But my thoughts will ever cling to thee,
My dear loved childhood's home.
I call to mind thy sunny skies,
Thy hills and valleys green;
And memory before me spreads
Each well remembered scene.
How oft beneath the grape trees' shade,
Which deck thy vineyards,
I've watched the curling breakers dash
Against the snow white sand.
And sporting 'mid the azure waves
A merry band of three,
It seems as though their happy laugh,
Yet rings upon my ear.
Thy' hope has fled, and troubles too
Have fallen thick and fast;
Yet round my heart still green and fresh Twine memories of the past.
Yes, there's a glamour hangs around
The fair land of my birth,
Which deck thy vineyards,
The brightest spot on earth.

NAVIGATION NOTES.

The barges Bedford and Isis have been up on the marine railway undergoing repairs.

The strif. Princess Louise arrived on Saturday to undergo repairs on the marine railway.

The strif. Pilot, Capt. Barnhart, was the first vessel to arrive in Pictou with a cargo this season.

Capt. Cowan of the Resolute encountered large fields of ice on the trip from Oswego on Tuesday night.

A large force of joiners are employed on the Chlois at present, and the work is making great headway.

The strif. Great Bear arrived on Saturday from Oswego and went on to Eagle Mill to load lumber.

A handsome little yacht will soon arrive to be used by Supt. Maloney in the log ponds of the Rathbun Company.

The Varuna, Capt. Fort, on her route
—no more saucy craft on the bay waters, even ready to show her heels to any competitor.

Capt. McNamara, a reliable navigator, will command the Puritan. She left on Wednesday with a mixed cargo for Kingston.

The Resolute and Reliance both cleared for Oswego on their first trip on Thursday evening of last week. They returned to Deseronto on Sunday morning.

The strif. Genoa arrived on Monday night from Kingston for repairs. She will run this season between Gananoque, Clayton and Alexandria Bay. She is a neat little craft.

A gentleman counted twenty-five vessels in the port on Tuesday last. Deseronto is the greatest shipping port between Kingston and Toronto, and yet not one dollar has been ever spent by government on our harbor, a state of things very different from Colourne, Belleville and a host of other places.

THE HERO.

This popular steamer arrived here on Saturday evening on her way to Belleville and is now running on her regular route.

The Kingston News says:—"The Hero was never in better shape for the summer's work.
Last year her hull was put in prime condition; this year her upper works have been thoroughly attended to, the boiler has been rebuilt and is as good as when fresh from the shops, the cylinder bored out, the wheels rebrushed and the entire machinery over-hauled so completely that an appreciable increase in the steamer's speed is anticipated. An important improvement is noticed in the forward stairway, which has been much enlarged and will greatly facilitate the rapid unloading of the steamer after excursions, a performance which usually consumed a full-hour when the saloon stairs alone were available. Besides these main renovations, the saloon and staterooms have been newly and handsomely carpeted, the dining department embellished an addition made to the smoke stack which improves the steamer's appearance wonderfully, and, in fact, the whole boat put in a 1. order. Her officers for the year are as follows:—Captain, C. H. Nicholson; mate, W. Bloomfield; purser, W. Thompson; 1st engineer, Gilbert Johnston; 2nd engineer, J. Hickey; steward, Joseph Tilton.

PUBLIC SCHOOL.

The following are the names, given in order of merit, of the pupils who obtained the highest number of marks in the Sixth Department, Deseronto Public School, for the month of April, Miss Craig, Teacher.

Fourth Class.—Mary Maracle, John Jamieson, Kate Maracle, Mary Brough, Harry
Cole, Charlie Baker, Harry Jackson, Arthur Morrison.

Third Class.—Frank Vance, George
Edwards, Frank Butler, Nelson Jackson,
Charlie Walker, Wilbert Woodcock, Florence Carter, Ada Widdicombe.

Public on Honor Roll for April in 4th Dept.
Public School, Teacher, Miss Jessie Porter.

Senior Class.—Violet Smith 920, Fanny
Maxwell 910, Fred McKee 910, Mabel Knapp 650, Margery Barrow 630, Allie Vandervoort and Willie Knapp, equal, 600.

Junior Class.—Pearl Valois, equal, 910, Fred Harvey 810, Minnie Noble 720, Nellie Fretts 700, Maggie Jackson and Newbold Carter, equal, 650, Elsie McCullough 650.

THE CEDAR MILL.

In no establishment in Deseronto have greater changes been made during the past few years than the Cedar Mill, which is now a factory of which our people are justly proud and to which it is a pleasure to point the frequent visitor. The building is large and spacious, the machinery new and of latest design, and everything kept in excellent order. The fire which destroyed the stage department last year proved, as most fires generally do, a blessing in disguise, as a better structure has been erected, giving the whole mill a more business-like appearance. The Mill is now cutting day and night and the output from this great establishment is expected to reach monster proportions by the end of the season. During the past winter a large new boiler was purchased from Messrs. Inglis & Hunter, Toronto, and has been placed in position under the supervision of Mr. Jas. A. Davis, the Mechanical Superintendent of the Rath-bun Company. Mr. Roach claims that he has now the best set boiler in Deseronto and that the increased power increases the efficiency of his mill in no small degree.

The staff of the mill has been re-organized and cannot be well surpassed. Mr.
Thos. Roach, Jr., so long connected with this mill continues in his former position of Superintendent, a post to which it is unnecessary for us to state he is particularly adapted. He is assisted by Mr. B.W.
Washburn, a well-known mill expert. Mr.
John Hoppes, late of the Campbellford Mills of the Rathbun Company, is in charge at night of the big circular department which has a gang of some twenty men. Roach, Hoppes and Washburn make a strong team, and there is little doubt that former results will be beaten this season. James Baird, a skillful mechanic, who spares himself neither day nor night, is chief millwright, and admirably succeeds in keeping the mill in good running order. He is assisted by Mr.
David Cooke who also keeps the bits in good order. Robert Rusk and Joseph Jones have had several years' experience in the mill, and are well known. R. Halliday's foreman on the second floor, or jointer section, while Thos. Jones is in command on the lower flat. Coming to the engine and boiler room, Messrs.
Barnett, chief engineer and on duty in the day time, while Wm. Bassett is night engineer. Wm. Luffman, who has had fifteen years' experience in the mill, is chief fireman, with John Rogers, a reliable man, on duty at night. In the yard department, the veteran E. H. Cooke is chief prover of the right main, and right place. He is ably assisted by a trustworthy corps of assistants in the persons of Joseph Dibble, Walter Stratton, Thos. Hinchey, Fred Duggan, etc. This department gets through a great amount of work in a business-like manner. The yard is looking well having lately been depleted of much superfluous stuff, which was shipped in the Resolute, Puritan, steam barge Scotia and consort Southampton, and thirty-five cars, all of which were loaded last week, thus giving an idea of the great amount of work done in this department. Joseph Barreau is the efficient foreman of the log pond. Mr. J. Brien is the chief of the blacksmith shop, while the old reliable Robert Blake looks after the carting and wood department. With fine gangs of men under their foremen, it is easy to predict a prosperous season for this establishment.

PERSONAL.

Mr. E. J. Edwards spent last Saturday in Belleville.

Mr. Edward Whitney, of the Empress, has gone west.

Mr. Abiah Smith, of Brighton, was in town yesterday.

Mr. W. H. Lake, of Pictou, was in town last Tuesday on business.

a few days in town during the past week.

Chief Keatehenth is preparing for a grand summer's campaign at the Thousand Islands and other places of resort.

Mr. Kyle, proprietor of the Kyle House,
Belleville, was in this city on Wednesday.

Mr. Clifton, of Belleville, was in town on his way home from a professional visit to Bay Bay.

Capt. Munroe, of Belleville, was in town on Tuesday. His boats are now busy at Belleville harbor.

Mrs. Wm. Sweet left on Tuesday for Delaware, Maryland, followed by the best wishes of very many friends in Deseronto.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Daniel Moriarty and Daniel Hayes were hanged at Tralee, County Kerry, for an assassin murder.

The twenty-sixth session of the Synod of Ontario will be opened in Kingston, on Monday evening, May 14th.

A gentleman in the employ of the Ontario government has secured a cottage at Davy's Island for the coming season. He will have a steam yacht with him.

The Dominion line mail steamer Vancouver arrived at Father Point on Liverpool on Saturday, the first arrival in the St. Lawrence this season.

The local government candidates carried Hochelaga and Maskinonge in the elections in Quebec on Saturday. The opposition carried Mistassqui.

Mr. Gaudet, M. P., for Nicolet, died in Ottawa on Sunday. Death has been very busy among our Canadian legislators during the past year.

A cyclone struck the east edge of Pratt, Kansas, on Thursday, demolishing several houses and killing Mrs. Wm. Fisher. Many other persons were seriously hurt.

Ernest Eichel and his wife, aged 60 and 55 years respectively, were found hanging from the transoms of a house at their home at Philadelphia on Thursday.

Mrs. Purvis, Malorytown, wandered from her home and a search being instituted her body was found in a swamp, where she appears to have perished from exposure.

The dwelling of Louis Stroman, near Springfield, S. C., was burned on Thursday. Four children, two boys and two girls, who were sleeping upstairs, perished. Stroman's eldest son was fearfully burned while trying to rescue his brothers and sisters, and will probably die.

Edgar Slade, aged 75, and Wm. McEllan, his grandson, aged 31 years, were burned to death Friday evening. They lived on a farm about three miles from Chatham, and it is supposed they were burning brush, but how the accident happened will never be known.

The late M. Bord, the piano-maker, of Paris, left to every one in his factory who has worked there for five years $200; to every one who has worked there for six years $200, and so on, increasing $200 for each year that the recipient has worked.

An Indianapolis gentleman was walking along the street, accompanied by two young ladies, one of the girls stepped on a parrot match, and in an instant the dresses of both were ablaze from head to foot. By prompt action on the part of the gentleman the flames were smothered before the young ladies were seriously burned.

Mr. Drury, of East Simcoe, has been sworn in as Minister of Agriculture in the local government of Ontario. He is a practical farmer and generally allowed to be competent to perform the duties of the position. There was not, however, the least necessity for another addition to the cabinet.

Miss Ada Belle Richards, daughter of the late Captain S. Richards, of St. Louis, a cousin of President Arthur, was married on Thursday night to Dr. Wright, of the Choctaw nation. The groom is a quarter-blooded Choctaw, son of the late Governor Wright, of Indian Territory. He is a well-educated physician, 30 years old, and handsome.

The exodus to the United States continues to be as great as ever. Several hundred persons have left the bay district this spring and hundreds of others are contemplating removal. Why do these people start and fly to the attractions of that fair land, the Mackenzie River valley? It is most pitiable to see so many of our people settling under an alien flag.

The Montreal Journal of Commerce remarks: "The farmers of Hastings are likely to lose from $20,000 to $30,000 through having given the land to the 'hull-less' oat fraud. If said farmers had paid one half that sum for their country newspapers and read them they would never have given these notes, but instead handed over the sounder notes which took the notes to the authorities. This bill being brought to the Parliament to endeavor to protect this class of farmers, will hardly prove effectual. Intelligence cannot be legislated into a man. Education is the true and only remedy."

A sudden stop has been put to the successful experiments of tobacco-growing. There have been in progress in England during the past three years by the unexpected discovery of a kind of fossil beetle, dating from the reign of King Charles II., expressly forbidding the culture of the weed in Great Britain under a penalty of $200 per rod planted.

This law was framed solely for the benefit of Crown Colony Virginia, and it is a little curious that the Act should still be in force, more than a hundred years after the date on which Virginia ceased to be connected with the Mother Country.

Mrs. Burdette, wife of Mr. S. B. Burdette, M. P., for East Hastings, died on Tuesday morning at her home in Belleville. She and news was received in Deseronto with sincere regret by all classes of the community. She was taken ill about noon on Sunday, having been stricken down by an attack of inflammation aggravated by heart trouble. Mr. Burdette was in Ottawa and did not reach home until some hours after his wife's death. He has a daughter, the late Dr. D. Wright, of Whitby, both her parents being of U. E. Loyalist descent. She was a communicant of the Anglican Methodist church and one of the most generous and charitable ladies of Belleville.

At Oshawa, Ontario, on Tuesday, one of the oldest residents, Robert Ayleworth, died at the advanced age of nearly eighty-three years, he having been born Aug. 20, 1805. The deceased was of United Empire Loyalist extraction; his father, the late Bowen Ayleworth, was nine years old when he accompanied his parents from the States. The deceased was born within five miles of Oshawa and resided in the township of Ernestown all his life. For thirty years he held the position of township clerk, and was for some time Superintendent of Public Schools. He was an earnest and devoted Methodist, and the local preacher from his youth up. Until five years ago he was in possession of all his faculties, but a paralytic stroke then rendered him helpless. He leaves four sons—C. F. Ayleworth, Devered Madoc; Rev. I. B. Ayleworth, D. D., Rev. D. W. Ayleworth, and Mr. John Ayleworth, C. E. Selby.

Among the interesting features of the April issue of North's Musical Journal is an article headed "Music for the Masses," which gives a method of musical notation which can easily be acquired by any person, thus making musical education universal as the reading and writing of our language. Other articles of interest to musical people included in this issue are "Hints to Ballad Singers," No. 2, by John Howard, and a Musical story "Eugene Gardiner's Career," by Michael Eugene Moore, and the usual installment of musical news and discussion of other subjects beneficial to teachers, pupils and all musically inclined people. The musical numbers, of which there are four, are: "The Goodbye," by W. E. Chaney, "This is my Song," a beautiful song by Anton Streibl; "Song of Summer," by W. E. Chaney, "The Goodbye March," by Adam Gelbel. This number is alone worth the price of a year's subscription, which is but $2.00. Single copies, 10 cents. In the May issue of the Journal the publishers will open a Band and Orchestra Department, which will add largely to this publication's field of usefulness, and to introduce the Journal to all bands and orchestra leaders who wish to have their names and names of their organization. Address, North's Musical Journal, 1365 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.

How to Grow Tomatoes in Perfection.—Because the generous nature of the tomato yields bountifully with seemingly little care and attention, the general impression prevails that the plant requires but little attention. This is a mistake, and there is not a vegetable in the garden that is so gross a feeder, nor one that so readily pays for all the food and care given as this tomato.

To the greatest perfection, the hills should be dug out to the depth of two and a half feet at the bottom there should be a half bushel of well rotted manure above this let the soil be an equal mixture of sand and manure thoroughly mixed. The hills should be at least six feet apart.

Let the situation be open, warm, airy. When the fruit begins to set mulch with clean straw or very small leaves. Under these conditions six plants will yield sufficient tomatoes for a family of twelve persons. Whatever variety may be planted in this manner, the result will show that for size, smoothness, and excellent properties, unknown to the variety when grown in the ordinary manner, see L. L. ALLEN, in American Agriculturist for May.

THE RATHBUN CO.

SHOW IN THE SADDLE.

There were rocks ahead—there was no doubt of that. For weeks we had heard whippers of an Indian rising, and now the redskins had us hemmed in on every side. The white settlers had long ago left the Territory, and we were holding the fort in desperation. Dear old Fort, how happy days we had spent in it! How brave and bright the hearts that beat there! It was picturesque rough. The winding river could be seen a mile away, gliding and quivering through the trees like a huge serpent. The air was laden with the scent of the pine blossoms, and the prairie round was soft as velvet. The high stockade that ran round the barracks made the position all the more pregame, and we kept the old flag flying over it to the last. But the day came when we had to leave it, dying for our lives. We were only a handful of men from the beginning. The Captain had been murdered by the red devils three weeks before when parading without the chiefs, and Bruce, having galloped back with arrows in his lungs, died two days after. Scottle and Ford succumbed to typhoid fever and malaria behind the stockade, and only six of the boys were left besides myself to see the end of it.

I was in charge after the captain's death, and when I saw my mutilated body past the fort I felt sorely tempted to trust to luck and make one good old-fashioned charge at the red devils. But I had great responsibility upon my shoulders then, and I was only a non-commissioned officer. I did not care to be too rash or fool away my country's money unnecessarily. A prairie trooper is not just the most refined character going; he does not move much in polished society, and he does not see many new faces; but he loves his comrades all the more for that, and I know there was not a man amongst us that would not die for the other if it came to that.

So we kept on our weary watch, waiting for the help that was never to come. There were old chums, long and patient they were! I had been a general they could not have obeyed me better. I wonder if an odd squad of men were ever shaken together! Here was Fred, the veteran, always talking of the "precious times," but as game as a pebble in spite of his frosty head; and Freddy, who was a good deal of a scoundrel, but who was as tender hearted as a woman; Ananias, always telling the most impossible yarns, and invariably ending with the solemn asseveration, "This is a true story; Patsy, ever on the lookout for a meal, and all of this was dear old handsomeness, and I knew he loved him. His voice was the loudest and his laugh the merriest everywhere. His heart was as big as a house, and he always had a ready-made word for any poor wretch that ever needed one. He was a reckless dog, and often in Europe than any other man; but he received his reprimands and punishments in due course, and when they were over was again as bad as ever. The men adored him and the officers liked him, and he was never done was good enough or bad enough unless Curly had a hand in it too. How he used to hear when an Indian came within range and how incessantly he used to pop at him, "just for fun!"

It was all hard enough work while it lasted, though we never knew from one moment to another when a night storm would come and the horses were kept added day and night, in case of a surprise. We had to keep our eyes skinned, you see, but on that the Indians were not so bad, not a hundred yards away, and seemed to divide how scarce our provisions and ammunition were.

For a week or two we had peppered them pretty; but it soon became too expensive an amusement and we had to husband every cartridge we could get. The next day when they might mean men's lives. Right up the hills behind, right on to the river in front, they lay in wait, and the curling smoke from their teepees told us what warms they mustered.

Escape seemed quite impossible. The stores were all burnt, and the horses were the order of the day for man and beast. The horses had the worst of it, I think; deprived of exercise and food, and of their legs began to swell, and the water made their coats rough and staring and their tempers vicious and uncertain. The men were suffering more than a month, and at last we had not more than three days' provisions left amongst us. The well had dried up, and the men were beginning to be wild and desperate.

I had just dropped asleep one night after a long night watch, when Frenchy woke me to say that a fresh detachment of Indians had crossed the river on a raft, which was moored close to the horses' old watering trough. This he had distinctly seen from the look-out tower on the old hospital roof, and he further added the alarming information that the new detachment were firing at us and were dancing to the beat of the tom-tom.

This was as bad as could be, for the feathered heads and muffled beating betokened bloodshed. I was up in a moment, and every loophole in the corral was stopped up as fast as willow bark could do it. The horses were led into the square, and the little squad, armed to the teeth, gathered together prepared to defend the lives as only desperate men know how to do.

We had not long to wait. We saw the tom-tom in front of us grow larger and heard the guttural yells that greeted the big chiefs' speech, and then they came toward us in a solid mass. Forty yards away they stopped, and forming a circle they began to sing and dance. Then they were firing at us, but their bullets struck harmlessly in the palisades or flew high above our heads. We were not to be hurt.

Occasionally they would fire arrows in the air, which were attached burning bags. With the evident intention of setting fire to our buildings.

For many hours this went on, the redskins knowing that the Indians had completely trapped, whilst we dared not move, being stunned by the discharge of a single shot. At last they succeeded in firing the stockade, and the old wood burned like tinder.

Fatty and Frenchy got up to the roof at once to try and save the horses, but they saw they themselves when there was a deafening gun-fire, and Fatty fell dead at our feet, shot through the head.

We were determined that the Indians should not get his body to mutilate and disfigure, so we laid it in the thickest of the trees, and we were not to be hurt. There was no time then for leaving taking no sign of sorrow, and what we had to do had to be done quickly.

From the stables the fire spread to the hospital, and we were getting scorched with the smoke. The horses were being coming unmanageable through fright and excitement. The moment had come for action and could not be delayed. "Boys," I said, as I looked into the faces of the little group about me, "we've stuck to the old outfit long enough. We haven't another meal to eat nor a drop of water for the horses and the place on fire all round us. We've got to expect any mercy from these howling devils, and I'm not for asking it either. But we must get away from here mighty quick, for we've got to get to the old outfit for the river and the raft; if we can reach it safely we may save our skins, and if not we may as well be killed out there as burned like rats in here." To this there was a general assent, and that is how the sortie was arranged.

It takes a long time to tell, doesn't it? But it wasn't long of happening, I can tell you.

The horses' girls were overhauled and tightened, and every one along his side on his back. Revolver in right hand, and sabre in left, we prepared to mount, with the sabre in the right hand, and the revolver in the left, and we were to keep together in a loose pace, straight out into the open air for half a mile, and then strike to the left for the river.

One moment for a silent, rapid handshakes, and we were all in the saddle but Curly, who stood at the gates to open them. We were to get to the old outfit in half a mile, and then strike to the left for the river.

The Indians saw our movement and headed for us immediately; but we were not to be frightened. We were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

How quickly I remember in the next few seconds the crimson blood, the thunder of the horses' hoofs, the moans and cries, the deep labored breathing as the heavy sabres rose and fell.

The firing, unfortunately, was a signal to the Indians near the river bank that we were moving, and we saw the gleam of their rifle-barrels as they ran towards us. There must have been three hundred of them about us, and we were on our feet, but all my nerves seemed strong like wires as we galloped along. Here was a scene of glorious confusion, and we were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

How the horses ran, half plunging, half in air, and how the ball whizzed on every side! We were to get to the old outfit in half a mile, and then strike to the left for the river. The Indians saw our movement and headed for us immediately; but we were not to be frightened. We were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

A rattling volley from a little thicket we were to get to the old outfit in half a mile, and then strike to the left for the river. The Indians saw our movement and headed for us immediately; but we were not to be frightened. We were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

The Parson was swearing at the top of his voice and slapping like a butcher as he stood high in his stirrups, and we were on our feet, but all my nerves seemed strong like wires as we galloped along. Here was a scene of glorious confusion, and we were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

Another volley and Curly fell forward on his saddle, but was up again in a moment, and we were to get to the old outfit in half a mile, and then strike to the left for the river. The Indians saw our movement and headed for us immediately; but we were not to be frightened. We were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

The rest is quickly told. We got off our horses and ran down the stream, lying flat on our faces to lessen the danger of being hit by the shots the enemy kept dropping at us.

For hours they followed us down the bank, and every now and then when the river narrowed and brought us too close to them, we would give them a dose, dropping the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left. The Parson was swearing at the top of his voice and slapping like a butcher as he stood high in his stirrups, and we were on our feet, but all my nerves seemed strong like wires as we galloped along. Here was a scene of glorious confusion, and we were to keep together, riding for them and charged straight into them, quick down the nearest and shooting and sabring right and left.

Not a man was hurt but Curly. Why was it that he alone—the bravest and the best—should have been singled out for such a death? His arm was shattered, and a bullet had struck him in the back, between the shoulders. He was in agony and we had not a comfort to offer him. We laid our hands on the rough log knots, to make it softer for him, and the Parson and his shirt and socks off to make a pillow for him. Frenchy tore his shirt into strips for bandages, and Peter used his to cover up the poor cold feet.

Yes, Curly was dying. He groaned with pain, but he never complained, and although he only had a few minutes to live, he wanted to thank us for what we had tried to do for him. There were few words spoken by him, but he was a great man, and he was a brave man, and he was a good man, and he was a true man, and he was a loyal man, and he was a faithful man, and he was a devoted man, and he was a loving man, and he was a caring man, and he was a helpful man, and he was a kind man, and he was a gentle man, and he was a patient man, and he was a forgiving man, and he A Millionaire in a Minute.

Instances are on record where tilters in gold mines and diamond fields who, by one turn of a spade, a single movement of the hand, have been transformed from penniless laborers to millionaires. But they were not so lucky as is the consumptive who finds a means of restoration to health, who learns that the dread disease from which he suffers is not incurable. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will cure consumption (which is lung scrofula), and nothing else will. For

Now is the time you can see plenty of good ending hounds, their routes.
Mr. R. H. Baker loaded the schr. Nellie Hunter with barley for Oswego last week.

There should be a good foot ball club organized here as there are plenty of good players.

On Sunday Arthur Sills and E. Gaultin, of the Big Store, bathed in the cool waters of the bay—the first dip this season.

The number of steam whistles appears to be unlimited this season. It is almost impossible to decide which is which.

Mr. Flint, the magistrate, gave judgment last week in favor of the teamsters in their suit against the Rabbin Company.

The copies of the Daily Intelligencer mailed to this office very frequently fail to connect, being evidently confiscated en route.

Mr. M. D. Campbell is spending a few holidays here on account of not having a good supply of grain at Glenora at present.

Wage earners should see that their names are placed on the assessment roll. It is their duty to attend to this important matter.

We have again to thank several friends for their kindly assistance in securing new subscribers for The Tribune. We depend on every reader of The Tribune assisting us in this way.

The young men who drive up from Napas on Sundays should have some respect for the Deseronto people if they have none for themselves.

Saturday and Sunday were as hot as in the middle of July, the thermometer standing at about 83° on Saturday but it made a terrible drop by Monday morning.

The corporation watering cart commenced work on Monday. John Oliver has the contract this season. The council should invest a few dollars in a coat of paint for the cart.

On Monday last, while Mr. George Stewart's hostler was on a wagon at the edge of the bay, filling a barrel with water the horse started, upsetting the man head first into the bay.

The Misses Krans, corner Thomas and Prince streets, are holding a great clearing sale this week of fancy goods, embroidery, trimmings, &c., preparatory to moving into their new premises, the store lately occupied by Mr. Robert Adams, St. George street.

Miss Porter has returned to Deseronto and resumed her former position in the public school. Miss Craig, who so efficiently managed the department in Miss Porter's absence, returned to her home in Belleville last Tuesday afternoon.

Former residents of Tyndinagosa, Sophiatown, &c., now citizens of Dakota and other western states, are said to await with greatest expectancy the arrival of The Tribune, their best medium for securing the news of this district.

Mr. R. H. Baker received a car load of Manitoba oats one day last week and is now selling it to the farmers for seed. These are pronounced very superior in quality. They are stored at Mr. R. H. Baker's barn east Main street.

As the Richmond council refuse to make any repairs on the Broadway Road, it is suggested that market fees be exacted from the farmers of that township attending the Deseronto market, the fees to be expended on the road.

It is rumored that the council will cease the assessment list to be printed this year. This would be a very serious move and would be found most profitable to the municipality and remove dissatisfaction so prevalent among ratepayers.

There are a few members of the Mechanics Institute still in arrears for the current year. All such are requested to settle their accounts immediately and thus prevent their names appearing on the delinquency list which will be published in the annual statement.

The boys have taken possession of the commons in front of the White Church for their sports and games. Now would be the time for forming a Park Association for the purchase of these grounds for pleasure purposes.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Burdett takes place to-day at 2 p. m.
Burglars find Deseronto a poor place for their business. They are generally either captured or in some way compelled to disgorge their booty before going any distance from town.

All who can possibly do so should endeavor to go over to Picton and hear Mr. Bedford, the prince of electioneers, next Tuesday evening. Why not get up an excursion for the purpose?

A meeting of the Deseronto Branch of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Methodist Parsonage at 4 p. m. on Thursday, 10th inst. The ladies are specially invited to be present. The last meeting was not well attended as it might have been.

It is just as well that the burglars make a beginning so early in the season. Already every well-to-do man has made arrangements for a careful watch of his premises, and each shop is guarded by night by a clerk with a blunderbuss loaded to the muzzle with lead. No mercy will be extended to these marauders.

The annual meeting of the Deseronto Mechanics Institute will be held on Monday evening. All members—not directors only—are requested to be present. We hope there will be a large meeting. The new officers will be elected. Meeting at 8 o'clock sharp.

Now that navigation is opened up, it is found that Daves and Hegarty have succeeded in getting very popular with the young ladies, who depend on them solely for a pleasant sail on Mohawk bay. They are said to be the only members of the Deseronto Canoe and Boating Club who are gallant enough to share their craft with the gentle sex.

Many of the strangers at present residing in the village take advantage of the good roads and fine weather to spend their way to the Mohawk church on Sunday mornings. A number of them have expressed to their pleasure in attending the service and also their admiration of the church with its beautiful situation and surroundings.

A few days since a young man not living more than a thousand miles from Deseronto went into the country for a drive with his sweetheart, and when he had arrived at what he considered a very quiet spot he stopped his horse and gave his girl such a loud smack that it aroused a man sitting down by the road side who yelled at the top of his voice, "Give her one more!"

There are a large number of valuable building lots on Main street. Some are vacant and others are occupied by disagreeable old crookedies. It is said that these lots are only assessed at nominal values and there is a general desire that they should be made to pay a fair share of taxes. We fear, clear of the council, have not courage to deal with the matter. The council needs to be wakened up on various matters of public importance.

George Wilson, a young man 19 years of age, met with an unfortunate accident last Tuesday forenoon while at work in the Big Mill. His duty was to keep the sawdust clear on the lower floor. He was carelessly and unnecessarily put his hand in the sawdust carrier when it was caught by the chain and terribly mangled. Dr. Newton examined the arm about the size of the forearm. Wilson belongs to Campbellsford or vicinity.

Everybody is busy house cleaning now; here and there your stove pipes when you take them down so that they can be easily put together in the fall. Have patience and don't swear when you are putting them together. It is generally the rule for the women to clean and put the lawn in order, but we hope the men will have a little more respect for the opposite sex and do it themselves this year.

On Monday the Big Mill and Cedar Mill commenced cutting by night as well as by day, thus giving employment to a large force of men. The machinery in both mills is working magnificently. Mr. H. C. Crawford takes charge of the Big Mill at night, with Mr. C. Dunn as floor boss and Theo. Pigeon on the lower floor. In the Cedar Mill at night. Both establishments present a busy appearance at night.

Principal Cole was the victim of a complete surprise last Friday evening. He happened to be down town and on his return home found that his residence had been invaded in his absence—not by burglars—but by the pupils of his department. They had come laden with cake, confectionery, fruit, &c. It is needless to say that a very pleasant evening was spent. Mr. H. C. Mrs. Cole doing everything possible to make their young visitors happy. This is one of many proofs of the good relations existing between teacher and pupils.

About a fortnight ago Mr. Michael Ryan, of Marysville, swore out an attachment against the goods of Daniel and Charles Hazlett on the ground that they were removing their property out of the county with intent to defraud him of a debt they owed him. Charles Hazlett left for the United States but Daniel Hazlett remained here. As he put in no defence, judgement was entered against him and this judgement was sought to set aside on the ground of mistake a legal that he did not know what paper he had been served with. On the application of Mr. George D. Dickson, Q.C. his agent, an application was made to set aside the judgement. On Monday the case came on for trial before Judge Frazer at the chambers, Mr. Northrup for Mr. Dickson appearing for Mr. Ryan. After lengthy arguments on both sides, the case stands over until to-day when a decision will be given.

On Monday night burglars effected an entrance into the Big Store, having climbed up through a window in the south-west corner. They forced open all the cash drawers in the office department but were not rewarded for their trouble, no money being left there over night. They filled a sack with boots and shoes, and a few other articles, filled their pipes with tobacco, blew out the lights, which had been burning and made off. Mr. Richardson, early in the morning, discovered the theft and set out to notify Chief Conyon. He met that officer on his way up the street with a sack on his shoulder which turned out to be the lost goods. The thieves, who were evidently amateurs, had hidden their booty near the railway track and covered it with some gravel. The B. & O. section men had discovered it and decreed it over to the Chief. Business men cannot be too careful this summer as it is altogether probable that thieves will be numerous this year.

Parties requiring the services of a scavenger will read advt. in another column.

Every resident of the township of Tyndinagosa should subscribe for The Tribune. Mr. Richard Howell is suffering from a painful attack of inflammation of the eye.

Mr. F. C. Whitton has returned home from a pleasant visit among friends in Mar-mora, &c.

Mr. Wm. Stoddard, of the Big Store, left yesterday for a few days visit to Renfrew on professional business.

The smoke stacks of the Cibola are being placed in position. They are the heaviest ever seen on the lake.

Rev. R. J. Craig, M. A., attended the induction of Rev. John Snodgrass at Deseronto, May 4, and preached the sermon on the occasion.

Any person thinking of purchasing a first class organ or piano would do well to write to the Rev. J. H. Bell, of Belleville, who has the genuine Bell organ and Heintzman piano. Prices low and payments very easy.

On Tuesday morning Mrs. Wm. McKeenly met with a painful accident causing a dislocation of the elbow joint. Dr. Vandervoort successfully reduced it and she is at present recovering very favorably.

The Board of License Commissioners for East Hastings met at Deseronto on Wednesday. The number of licenses issued are as follows: Deseronto 4, Tyndinagosa 1, Tyndinagosa 5, extended 3; Thurlow 5, extended 1; Hungerford 3 and shop two. The Board meets again at Caniloon on the 7th inst.

The farmers have had magnificent weather for putting in their crops this season. With an expected shortage in the northern states and due prospect of great dearth in Europe during the coming summer, farmers should not hesitate to sow every rod of ground as high prices will obtain next autumn.

Rev. Messrs. Croxley and Hinton, the evangelists, closed a very successful series of meetings in Amora on Sunday last. Nearly 60 persons professed conversion. Rev. D. O. Cronley is now resting at his home in Brighton until the meeting of the District Conference in Lindsay on the 21st inst.

If the town council needs to be awaked about the High School board, a number of gentlemen were appointed to this position but as far as we can learn they have as yet failed to meet for organization. It is time the town was taking action and the preliminary arrangements for a high school.

Messrs. Kerr & Wima, of the McCulloch Block, have been adding to their stock during the past week, and their neatly arranged shop is much more attractive than ever. Their stock of goods is very complete and leaves nothing to be desired. Their prices are such as leave no chance for people to grumble, and as the members of the firm are courteous to a fault, customers will find every attention. They make a specialty of dress goods and genteel furnishings.

Mr. A. J. Hopkins, landscape architect, of Oswego, was in town on Wednesday. He submitted the plans of the Deseronto Cemetery and the same have been accepted by the directors. Mr. Hopkins has gone back to Oswego to complete the plans but will return in a week or two when the work at Deseronto will be hurried forward. The directors examined the grounds thoroughly the other day and were delighted with the beauty of the situation.

The efficiency of the primary department, and consequently of all the departments of the public school, is greatly impaired by the objectionable practice which prevails of allowing new pupils to be entered on the register at a time when the parents have sent them to school. New pupils should only be received twice a year at dates approved by the board. The present practice is now it is very unfair to the teacher and prejudicial to the department. As pupils for the rest of this term.

MR. GEORGE BELFORD, THE EMINENT ELECTIONIST, OF LONDON, ENO.—This talented young gentleman, who electrified his Picton audience last winter by his charming manner, easy, graceful gestures, and well modulated voice, will give another of his delightful and entertaining lectures in Town Hall, Picton, on Tuesday evening, the 8th inst. All who possibly can should avail themselves of this opportunity of hearing Mr. Belford. His sea stories are charming and the ease of his delivery and grace of his style prove him equally delightful in the pathetic and the humorous. Tickets 25 cts. Raised seats 50 cts. Place of hall at Mr. J. Redmonds, Picton.

Mr. Samuel B. Slack, formerly of this place, writes to us from Deloraine, Man., enclosing a notice for The Tribune. He is in good health and perfectly satisfied with the country of which he says he likes the appearance very well. He has got a very good home about 24 miles from Deloraine in the Turtle Mountain district. When the railway is extended he will be only a few miles from the line. There is plenty of wood and good water in the district. He secured a cancelled homestead with some improvements on it. Messrs. Goldsmith and B. Kimmerly passed through to a place fifty miles farther west. They and their families were well. Wages for farm hands are $200 for eight months and men are scarce.

The Deseronto Athletic Association has been organized, with the following officers:—H. B. Rathbun Honorary President; Geo. Evans, President; W. R. Kylesworth, W. G. Evans, Vice-Presidents; W. G. Evans, Secy.; J. F. Stokes, Secy. Treas.; W. J. Malley, J. Hampton, Jno. Dalton and F. S. Hall, Executive Committee. The Association will have several branches—cricket, baseball, tennis, football, &c. Proper grounds for the different games will be secured and a membership has been already secured. In connection with the Association a Foot-Ball Club has been already formed. All who desire to join should apply to one of their names to the Secretary, Mr. J. F. Stokes. Membership fee is only 50 cts. A meeting of the foot-ball club will be held at the Mechanics' Institute next Wednesday, 9th inst. at 8 p. m. for the election of officers.

In a London lawsuit, the costs on one side have already amounted to $500,000. Menotti and Ricciotti Garibaldi, sons of the Italian hero, are both defendants.

FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1888.

DEATH.

From Our Own Correspondent.
It is now painful duty to chronicle the death of Mrs. Anna Warden, in the 77th year of her age. Another old landmark gone.
Mr. Austin Warden, of Toronto, has been at home attending the funeral of his mother, Mr. & Mrs. Tennant, of Belleville, have also been here attending the funeral of Mrs. Tennant's mother.
Mrs. Laila, of Foxboro, is at Mr. Samuel Quinn's, her paternal home, and is visiting among her numerous friends.
Farmers are about through seeding, everything looks well, and the prospect for a big harvest was never better at this time of the year.
Our esteemed teacher, Miss Redmond, is away home on the sick list, but her place is ably filled by her younger sister.

SHANNONVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mrs. Slush, of Perry Sound, is the guest of Mrs. J. Graham.
Mr. A. Roberts was called away to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Parish, of Port Perry, who died quite suddenly.
Mrs. R. McLaren, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. B. McKinnon, Toronto.
Miss Maud Egan leaves on Wednesday next to visit her sister, Mrs. James Howell, Michigan.
Mr. Hiram Loveless was taken very ill on Sunday last, but we are glad to learn that he is improving.
Services will be held in the Presbyterian Church of this place on Sabbath next at 3 o'clock p.m.
A lecture will be delivered in the Methodist Church on the 22nd inst. by the celebrated lecturer, Arlington Cook. Subject: "To and Fro in the Sunny South." Admission 10 cts.

LONSDALE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mrs. D. L. Williams, of Deseronto, is visiting at her father's Mr. Robert Winters, Lonsdale.
There seems to be great attraction for our village from the north west, about 25 miles distant, for a young man. It is a long drive in the night and so doubt he will secure his prize soon and settle down in his new home. If so some one will be left.
On Thursday afternoon, Mr. William, aged three years three months and three days, only son of Mr. Jas. McCullough, and grand son of Mr. Thos. McCullough, of the 4th cm. of Tyndalton, near Kingsford, fell in a well, the water being close to the top. On rising he was soon taken out by his frightened mother, but he was dead at the time and whose cries soon alarmed neighbors and brought them to her assistance. They used all possible efforts to resuscitate him but life was extinct. The funeral was largely attended on Saturday at the Presby. Church, Lonsdale, by sorrowing friends, about fifty cardinals, following the remains from the house to the church where a large number were gathered. The funeral services were performed by the Rev. Mr. Sinclair, B.A., of Queen's College, Kingston, assisted by the Rev. Mr. Sanderson, pastor of the Methodist Church, Lonsdale. The body was laid to rest in the Lonsdale cemetery. The sorrowful parents have the sincere sympathy of all who know them. Knowing that though he cannot return to them they can go to him and wish to be resigned to their loss which is his gain.

ALBERT.

From Our Own Correspondent.
I see in the TRIBUNE some one has been experimenting with sails, to find out which way sap flows in the maple, up or down. This puts me in mind of a certain witness in a lawsuit who was asked which way the stairs ran. Well, says the witness, one way they run up stairs, and the other way they run down stairs. Say the witness, both up and down. If you cut the lowest run in the tree, sap will run the whole season, and if you break or tear off the highest branch in the tree sap runs just as long and as freely. I have often seen when chopping, one tree top interlocked with another, and when one fell it would pull it down from the other, while the sap ran as much sap as one cut lower down. Any one can tell that sap runs up as well as down, by breaking off the highest twig in small maples, which will run sap as well as one cut lower down. I have often seen in the tallest trees felled a foot or two long hanging dangling to small limbs, of course the felled were formed by the sap freezing as it came out of the tree. When maple trees are cut down the sap continues to run up, which certainly runs up. You will often see maple drawn up for firewood in a log and the sap flowing out of both ends; it makes no difference whether the logs are placed horizontally or perpendicularly. Sap circulates through every fibre of wood in every direction. We should get just as much sap from the maple tree cut near the top, as we do by cutting it lower down, but it would be very difficult to collect it.

TYNDALTON RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Some of our people speak of sending their children to the Shigawake Home at mid summer.
We are pleased to hear that Lydia March, who has been seriously ill, is in a fair way of recovery.
Our farmers at the west end have completed their seeding and say that the outlook is promising.
Alfred Smith is working J. Amos Brant's farm this year.
We are pleased to hear, that Mrs. Martin, wife of one of our tenants, who has been seriously ill, is now convalescent.
Our patron and the church lay delegates are attending the Diocesan Synod in Kingston this week.
We expect the people to beautify the graves of their departed relatives and thus give the cemetery a respectable appearance. On Sunday, the 20th inst., Whit-Sunday, there will be a celebration of the Holy Spirit in St. John's Church. On Whit-Sunday, 1880, our ancestors first worshipped at St. John's Church at Port Huron, and then at Tyndalton, and then at the present site of our church.

PEOPLE here were surprised to read in the newspaper that Napanee has only a population of 2,200. They think there is an error some place. If the figures are correct Deseronto must soon overtake the shiretown of Lennox & Addington.

ADDITIONAL LOCAL NEWS.

On Wednesday the Chief arrested Capt. P. Anderson, of Pictou, on a warrant issued by a Napanee magistrate. He was brought to Napanee where he was held $10 for use of abusive language to W. Hough. It seems the Captain had sailed over some fishing nets and hence the trouble.
THE TRIBUNE takes another step in advance this week by appearing as a six column paper. This will enable us to give more space to our advertising patrons and in many other respects increase the usefulness of THE TRIBUNE as a local newspaper.
The officers are as follows:—John Johnson, Captain; Kenneth McInnis, Secretary; and Reuben Carnahan, Treasurer.

AN AWFUL RIDE.

President Agassiz, General Manager Whiting, Superintendent Wright and Capt. Wells, officers of the Calumet & Hecla, Marquette, were Wednesday evening making a tour of inspection of the South Hecla. At the thirteenth level they got into the skip to go to the surface. The signal, three bells followed by four bells, indicating that there were men in the skip, was given. Some miners on the upper level, not knowing of the presence of the party in the skip, and wanting to use it, gave the signal four bells so quickly after the other signal that the engine's mistook the signal for eight bells. At the thirteenth level they got into the skip and at once turned on full speed. As they neared the top, the tender, who was struck dumb with astonishment as he saw the skip with human freight and hearing the words, "For God's sake stop the skip," succeeded in stopping it within a few feet of the fatal dump. It was an awful ride.

John Bull is undergoing one of his periodical cowardly panics, and is strengthening his fortifications. It is another device for contractors and noble families to plunder the treasury.

FRIDAY, MAY 25, 1888

Cricketing Shirts and Belts at The Big Store.
A fine display of aurora last Sunday evening.

The County Court holds its next session on the second Tuesday in June.

A splendid assortment of popular tales and other books at The Tribune office.

Mr. R. Geddis has made preparations on a large scale for the ice cream season and will be prepared to fill all orders.

Vanburen, of Smith's Block, has made a great break in the price of groceries this week. Call and be convinced.

The Napane Cement Works having received all their machinery commenced work again last week.

Canada has only one great city and Montreal is its name. In comparison with it Toronto, Quebec, &c., are only one horse town.

A woman named Jane Brady was fatally injured by a passing train at Springbrook station of the Central Ontario Railway.

Another large assortment of popular books has been received at The Tribune office.

A CAR LOAD of Children's Express Wagon just arrived at Dalton's furniture warehouses, St. George street.

OUR thanks are due to the Attorney General for a copy of the Revised Statutes of Ontario, two large volumes.

Horses to the value of $60,000 were shipped from the Napane district to the United States last year.

REINHOLD HOLMES, of Lake Elgin, near Farnerville, aged 101 years, is the oldest man in Canada, possibly in America.

A number of unlicensed peddlers continue to operate in Deseronto and vicinity, and business men complain in consequence.

CHARCOAL BIRN, number 3, at the Chemical Works has been killed for the first time and burning will commence immediately.

MELLOW, the public spirited son of Vulcan in the west end, has joined the anti-fence society and his lot looks all the better for it.

One of the pressing wants of Deseronto is a foundry. An energetic man in that line of business would build up a profitable business in a few years time.

MR. WM. JAMESON, of the Empire, purchased twenty young pigs for his stock farm near Mr. James McAuley, of Lonsdale, paying $45 for the lot.

THE RUTLER ran on a shoal over the bay on Monday and bent her shaft. Admiral Maloney finds this craft of great service in his log pond operations.

MR. W. R. HARRIS, assistant treasurer of the province, has handed in his resignation to the Hon. A. M. Ross. He is succeeded by D. E. Cameron, of Lucknow.

DARTON has received an immense assortment of baby carriages in all styles to meet the wants of the rapidly increasing population of Deseronto.

MR. Robert Taylor, having received the permission of the council, is erecting a large hotel house at the foot of the hill, and will keep a host lively, thus filling another long felt want in Deseronto.

Four ill favored kids made an irruption into town on Tuesday morning and for a few minutes devastated Mill and St. George streets. Being the first cattle seen this season they were driven out without being impounded.

THE COUNCIL had not time to deal with the telegraph poles at their last meeting, but on Monday night they will order the Clerk to demand their removal from the street. The people are a unit in their demand for the abatement of this nuisance.

EDITORS, as a rule, are kind hearted and liberal. An exchange tells of a subscriber to a paper who died and left four hundred subscription unpaid. The editor appeared at the grave when the lid was being screwed down for the last time, and put in a linen duster, a thermometer, a palm leaf fan and a receipt for making artificial life.

THE people of Picton like those of Deseronto complain because the Reindeer and a number of other steers do not advertise the hour of their arrival and departure in the local newspapers. Hardly an hour of the day passes when a steersman is coming to this office to find out what hour these vessels depart. This is cheap advertising with a vengeance.

MR. W. D. McRAE, of the Rathbun Company's business at Picton, was found representative, the other day, that the company's sales from January to April, inclusive, for the present year have very largely exceeded the sales made in any previous year since the advent of the Company to Picton, and that in the months named the sales were double of what they were in the same period last year.

MR. W. D. McRAE, with that eye to antithesis for which he has so long been distinguished, is preparing to lay out a lawn, plant shade trees, &c., in front of the office at the Chemical works, thus making surroundings something to be admired.

In this connection we may remark that William and his estimable partner have been planting the plot adjoining the "den" and have displayed an amount of skill that a Hopkins might envy.

A YOUNG lady in town strongly objects to the proposed removal of all the front fences which spoil our streets. She says that if the fence was gone, it would mean that the front gate must necessarily go also, and in that event, there will be no friendly support left for her and William to swing and lean upon while studying astronomy.

There is no doubt, a forcible plea, but the lack of sentiment is fast passing away. Young ladies are devoting far less time to the study of "onomies and ologies" far better pay more attention to culinary and other practical sciences.

Is there no remedy for this steady exodus of Ontario to the United States which is apparent in this bay district? It is painful to see so many of our best citizens leaving their birth to settle under an alien flag.

It is a shadowy day, a world of mountains, the lifeless, a shadowy day.

Ice cream at the sign of the Red Light—R. Geddis's.

Get your couches and mattresses made over at Dalton's—as good as new.

Why is the Scott Act like an Irish landlord? Because it evicts tenants—from the jail.

ICE CREAM, twenty five cents a quart, at R. Geddis's, corner Main and St. George streets.

Fudge ice cream is a specialty with R. Geddis who is always found at the sign of the Red Light.

As will be seen by advt. a valuable property is advertised to let or for sale across the bay.

New neckties, white shirts, cambric shirts, handkerchiefs, and bath towels undergarments, very cheap. Kerr & Wines.

MR. R. SMITH, agent of the Home Knowledge Association, of Toronto, was in town on Wednesday.

Call at the Big Store and see the new Wigwam Slippers for men, women, and children—they are nobby.

Owing to the advance in wheat and flour the price of bread has gone up and the loaf is now sold at eleven cents.

MR. D. R. McRAE will occupy the residence lately occupied by Mrs. Geddis, at the corner of Dundas and St. George streets.

A splendid assortment of White Shirts, Collars, Summer Ties, in Gents' Furnishings at The Big Store.

The Toronto drummer with his satchel and shiny hat is an exceedingly familiar object on the streets this season.

JOBBS PRICE, of Kingston, says he never knew the level business so thoroughly dried up as it is at present.

PRINCIPAL COLE has been elected one of the Executive Committee of the South Hastings Trench Institute.

The best judges along Lake Ontario prognosticate that this will be a great season for fish.

THE CIBOLA was visited by hundreds of people last Sunday. The procession commenced about 6 o'clock in the morning and ended at sunset.

CAPT. McGOVERNDALE has received his sailing orders and the Cibola will clear for Toronto on Monday, June 5th. She will commence her trips to Niagara on June 12th.

MR. HENDERSON, photographer, Kingston, is in town on Tuesday taking views of the various establishments of the Rathbun Company, and other objects of interest in Deseronto.

BANANAS, Pine Apples, Oranges, Lemons, etc., are being sold at The Big Store at prices which are within the reach of all. Large quantities arrive each trip of the Resolute.

The choir of the Methodist Church has received several valuable acquisitions of late. It is expected that by the time the new church is opened the organization will be in a very efficient condition.

CAPTAIN TOM, the famous stallion which won the "Sprinting Times" stallion race in Picton last year, has been sold to Mr. Richardson and Capt. Marshall. He will stand during the season at his stables in Deseronto.

A number of young lads in several of the churches went to seek themselves near the church door and then dodge out a few minutes after the services commenced. They thus failed to report to their parents that they have been at church on the strength of these few minutes devotions.

MR. DAVID TAIT has gone to Picton to act as foreman of the new marine railway in that town. Mr. Tait is a good man and will fill his new position creditably. His family will remove to Picton next week.

The Gilmour and Rathbun drive of logs on the Trent river contained 300,000 logs. It is about as large as any that has ever passed down the Trent.

AN unusually large number of drunken men were seen on the streets last Sunday, bringing up recollections of the halcyon days of last summer when the Montreal rivetters at work on the Cibola used to take Sunday as their principal day of carousal.

A MEMBER of one of the town lodges wishes to know if it is considered correct to use any letter word to advertise their meetings than by a diminutive scrawl posted up in the post-office. It is a poor way to invite visitors from other lodges who may happen to be in town.

MONTREAL business men are bringing local insurance companies to time by transferring their insurance business to the United States companies. By the way are not these business men the same persons who say it is disloyal for farmers and other ordinary people to have better trade relations with the United States? It makes a great difference whose ox is gored.

MR. C. Stafford and the other members of her family crossed over in the Resolute Monday night to Deseronto, where she makes her future home. Her sons occupy responsible positions in a large cash and door factory in that city. In common with all classes of the community we regret the removal of such a respectable resident and wish her and her family all success in their new home across the lake.

THE SCHOONER William Elgin sprung a leak Saturday afternoon, when about four teen miles out from Oswego and Picton. She was loaded with 300 tons of coal from Oswego consigned to the Rathbun Co., Belleville. There was no insurance on the vessel. The crew were picked up by the Ocean Wave and landed at Indian Point. The William Elgin was built in Deseronto in 1871 and lately owned by Capt. James Savage. She was in a good state of repair and valued at about $20,000.

MR. BENJAMIN THORNTON, who lived alone in his house on Thompson-street, was found dead yesterday morning. It seems that he has been ailing for some time, and on Wednesday, when he was unable to enter his house and found him complaining of being ill. The following morning Mr. Chas. London, his neighbor, hearing no noise about the house, entered, and found the old man dead. As his body was found in a sitting position in a chair, it is conjectured that he must have expired in the previous evening. The deceased was a native of the Down, Ireland, and was for many years a cook in the employ of the Rathbun Company. He was a well-known character, and his cheery face will be missed on our streets.

MR. JOHN JOHNSON, Inspector of Schools, spent three days this week making a thorough visitation of the public schools of Deseronto. He expressed himself very much pleased with the work done in the different departments, evidencing, as it did, good care and energy on the part of Principal Cole and his assistants. The Inspector has sent in a written report to the school board.

The shop at one time used for purifying tar at the Chemical Works has been fitted up as a workshop for the pipe fitters of the gas works.

HORRIBLE CRIME AVENGED—Greenville, Miss. May 23.—Three horrible and unjustifiable crimes were yesterday avenged by the hanging of one white man named Graham and two negroes named Dave Moore and Willard Hall. The execution took place at Bolivia. About 2,000 people witnessed the hanging. Moore killed one of his companions during a game of dice at Hall's while drunk, killed a 16-year-old boy, and Graham killed two white men on the Sun Flower river.

The great trades' council of Toronto, representing the vast army of working men in that city, have passed resolutions unanimously approving of the early closing by-law thus doing away with the stock argument that working men want all the evening to make their purchases. It is the verdict of the people to say that such a by-law interferes with the liberty of the subject; as if there was any law in existence that does not interfere with the liberty of the subject. All such laws are passed to protect man from himself and his own selfishness. It is but natural that workmen who have secured the passage of factories acts, protection of employees acts, and similar measures, should support laws enforcing the early closing of shops.

The fence removal agitation has taken a firm hold on the public mind to judge from the expressions of approval and support that Deseronto has received from its citizens during the past week. What a bill of expense their fences are, how ungraciously they look, how many fine houses are disfigured by their presence, how many looking some districts of the town appear where the tottering, dilapidated specimens abound. Away with them, even though it goes head against your old prejudices. Do not fear the presence of cows; owners of cattle can be held responsible for all damage done. The children will respect a neat flower bed or grass plot, so no fear on that score.

THE INCREASE which has taken place in the number of shops of late years and the competition which has been engendered thereby are rapidly removing the charge that Deseronto is a dear place to live in. It is found that goods are now sold here as cheap as they are elsewhere. Farmers of the surrounding district have discovered that Deseronto is the very best market for their produce since they secure ready money for all they can sell, and hence the market is very well supplied. It is now said that butter, such as it is, and all groceries are actually cheaper than they are in other towns of the district. Business men, with a few exceptions, lack skill in displaying their goods to advantage. The general public is sadly needed and we are surprised that local capitalists or building companies do not erect a few blocks for shop purposes.

THE ROAD between Deseronto and Napanea meet from all accounts have presented a spectacle last Sunday. The number of drunken persons appears to have been unusually great. The majority were chiefly young lads from fifteen to eighteen years of age belonging to Napanea. These lads crazy with drink could be seen lashing and racing the lively horses and making the neighborhood resound with their shouts and cries. There is surely some law in this section of Canada to suppress such riotous conduct. The Lennox and Deseronto authorities should take the matter in hand. The quiet of the Sabbath should not be disturbed by such rowdies. Respectable people were afraid to drive into town last Sunday evening to the different churches in case of being run into by these young rascals. The persons who entertain horses to the care of such as the parties are if anything worse than they.

OF WHIT Sunday S. Mark's Church was attended by large congregations. In the morning the services were conducted by Rural Dean Stanton who preached a sermon appropriate to the occasion. The musical portion of the service was very well rendered and included Bridgewater's Te Deum and Johnnie, and C. H. Leonard's anthem "Send Out Thy Light." The solos were taken by Miss Anderson and Mr. H. Powles who performed their difficult task admirably.

At the evening service Rev. Robert Atkinson, of Milford, was the preacher. The musical selections were Bridgewater's Credo and Gounod's "Send Out Thy Light." The solos were admirably rendered by Miss Scott. Mrs. Hillman presided at the organ at both services with her well known ability. The church was neatly decorated with flowers, and when lit up at night looked very handsome.

Some English newspapers are crying out that England is no longer Christian since the Oath Bill has passed. That cry is old. It was heard when the Test and Corporation Acts were abolished. It was again raised when Roman Catholics were permitted to Parliament, then when the Jewish Disabilities were removed the same howl was heard again. The fact is that a country is Christian only as it is peopled by Christians, and no amount of oaths will keep unprincipled men from overleaping barriers to honor and power. No doubt there were plenty of hypocrites in the House of Commons who readily swallowed the oath which Bradlaugh refused, and very likely when the measure reaches the House of Lords it may be thrown out by men of as unbelieving hearts and flagitious lives as any that could be picked off the streets of London on a summer day.

THE music in the May issue of North's Philadelpia Musical Journal will be found especially interesting inasmuch as it contains to suit all tastes. The beautiful song and chorus, "Sweet Rosalie," by J. Ford, author of the well known "Will You Love Me When I'm Old," will surely please all who are fond of a sweet and flowing melody set to words brim full of pure sentiment. The "Maiden's Waltz" by Henry B. Mauby and the "Dance of the Elves" by Thomas O'Neill, will find favor among all who enjoy comparatively easy and yet interesting instrumental music. The "Barcarole," by J. Low, and the "Andante in G minor" by Mendelssohn are each classic gems which will be appreciated by all who are striving to cultivate a taste for the highest grade of music. Altogether the music issued in this number is worth more than is asked for an entire year's subscription, and is but a fair specimen of the musical contents of the twelve numbers. The letter press portion contains a portrait and sketch of Mr. Fred T. Baker, the eminent composer, and the usual amount of articles of value to interest to music teachers and pupils. Every person subscribing to the Journal previous to July 1st, 1888, will receive $2.00 worth of sheet music as a premium. Subscription, $1.00 a year; specimen copy 10c. Address, North's Musical Journal, 1308 Chestnut St., Philadelphia, Pa.
